

“TOO SMART TO BE SO STUPID” LYRICS

Your picture's on my wall and it's smiling back at me
It makes me want to forget all the times you've been so mean
But I can smell the tires from you peeling out the drive
And I still don't know how I made you mad this time (I still don't know)

I've got a decent job and a college degree
But I've never been enough to meet your needs
So if you think I'm gonna chase you down again
Just check your rear-view mirror cause I won't be there my friend

Cause I'm too smart to be so stupid over you
With your long blonde hair and those pretty baby blues
And every time you flash that smile, you're taking me to school
And I'm too smart to be so stupid over you

I'm picking up the phone and I'm dialing up my friends
You know the ones you said I could never see again
I'm gonna let them know that I've found my self respect
And then we'll hit the town cause the chain is off my neck (Yes it is)

Cause I'm too smart to be so stupid over you
With your long blonde hair and those pretty baby blues
And every time you flash that smile, you're taking me to school
And I'm too smart to be so stupid over you

It's still a struggle and I don't know why
It should be easier to say goodbye
But you ain't gonna keep your hold on me this time

Cause I'm too smart to be so stupid over you
With your long blonde hair and those pretty baby blues
And every time you flash that smile, you're taking me to school
And I'm too smart to be so stupid over you

So stupid over you
